

Family Weekly Memo- Dec. 16-20, 2024

Phew! We just about made it....1 week left! Unfortunately, it looks like it will be a chilly week.

We have a lot going on this week.

Monday the PAC will be doing a craft with all students in the school. Students will rotate through the kitchen and then bring home a cute, handmade decoration.

Tuesday is Shopping Day. All students will have the opportunity to shop for their family members. Each gift is $1.00. All students will get to shop for their parents/guardians first and then go back a second time to shop for additional family members. For younger students it is a great idea to have a list of who they are shopping for. Remember, they do this on their own and the best part is seeing what they pick for you, without any help from an adult! Small bills/change is appreciated. ALL students will get to purchase at least 2 items, even if they forget their money, thanks to some community donations.

On Thursday we will be having a full-dress rehearsal for the concert at 1:00. If families are not able to attend Thursday evening this is an option for you. You need to be prepared for a few bumps and hitches throughout the performance as it will be the first time through.

Report Cards will go home on Thursday and then Friday is our last day and PJ Day!
